COL. LYNCH NOW HAVING A TRIAL

The Irish Member of Parliament Is Being Tried for High Treason in Africa.

SAYS NOT GUILTY

Attorney for the Crown Says He Will Prove He Shot English Soldiers in Battle.

(Special By Scripps-McRae.)

London, Jan. 21.—Col. Arthur Lynch, Irish member of parliament, charged with high treason in fighting with the Boers was placed on trial today. The court refused to quash the indictment.

Pleads Not Guilty

When arraigned Col. Lynch pleaded not guilty to the charge of treason and the trial was begun.

Fired Shots

The attorney general in opening the address for the crown declared that Lynch was a British subject and that it would be proved that he personally fired upon British soldiers and also superintended the firing.

GERMANS MAY BE PLANNING A FIGHT

Defeat of the Panther Has Caused Chagrin Among the German Fleet Officers.

Berlin, Jan. 21.—It is announced here that the German cruiser Vineta has been ordered to Maracaibo.

The surprise expressed at Washington that the German cruiser Panther should try to enter Maracaibo harbor is not understood here, where the operation is regarded as a simple act of force consequent upon the maintenance of an effective blockade. The allied commanders, including the Italian and British, must, under the agreement, it is pointed out, have been consulted beforehand and have jointly ordered the operation, which was left to a German vessel to carry out because that part of the coast was assigned to the Germans, and therefore the British and Italian commanders share the responsibility equally with the German commander.

Besides this, the view continues to be held that the blockade must be strictly enforced until the protocol is signed, as in no other way can President Castro be kept up to a realization of the fact that the allies mean business. It is considered that if the blockade is allowed to languish the negotiations at Washington will be lengthened.

The reason for the Panther's action suggested here is that it was to prevent trade with Colombia through the river port of Villanuza and by the Cataumbo and Zulia rivers, which enter into Lake Maracaibo, which has enabled Venezuela partially to defeat the blockade.

Commodore Scheder's report of the bombardment of Fort San Carlos has not yet been received here, because it was cabled from Port of Spain, Trinidad, involving considerable delay.

THE SOCIALISTS ARE VERY NOISY

They Create a Scene in the Reichstag and Stop All Debate.

Berlin, Jan. 21.—There was a stormy scene in the Reichstag today following an attempt of Herr Vollmar, socialist, to raise a debate on the charge brought against the late Herr Krupp and Emperor William's telegrams and speeches on the subject. The president of the house declined to permit the discussion and the socialists violently protested against this ruling, asserting that he was violating the rights of the reichstag.

The ground on which the President refused to allow the debate was that it was out of order to discuss a private person while debating the budget. The president interposed several times to prevent Herr Vollmar from continuing his remarks. The socialists, who reviled the president, frequently referred to him as a "miserable dog."

Lorenzo Chesmore At his former home in the town of Harmony, final rites were held over the remains of Lorenzo Chesmore, aged twenty years, Tuesday morning at ten o'clock. Rev. Hughie was the officiating clergyman. Robt. Clark, Miss Clark, Mr. and Mrs. McCall provided the music. The pall bearers were the four brothers and two cousins of the deceased. The remains were laid to rest in the cemetery at Johnstown Center.

ORANGES GREW ON TABLE FOR GUESTS

Mrs. Johnson Taylor Has a Fruit-Bearing Tree Which Was Grown from a Seed.

At a family dinner given recently by Mr. and Mrs. Johnson Taylor at their home 105 Pearl street, the unique central decoration for the table was a growing orange tree on which were blossoms and ripened fruit. Before the conclusion of the dinner the guests were invited to partake of the oranges growing before them and the two golden globes which were ripe were picked and sampled. It was certainly a novel experience for residents of Wisconsin, people of this state being generally compelled to go to California or Florida to eat oranges fresh from the trees.

The little tree is only fourteen inches high and was grown by Mrs. Johnson from a seed. The tree is two years old and this season it had fifty-two blossoms. Four oranges matured there still being two nearly ripe ones on the tree. The oranges matured perfectly although they are rather small. They are also fairly good in quality and flavor although of course they do not equal fruit grown out of doors in the orange growing states.

STEAMER LAHN SAFELY FLOATED

Big Liner Which Was Aground Near Rock of Gibraltar is Released.

Gibraltar, Jan. 21.—The North German Lloyd steamer Lahn, bound from Mediterranean ports for New York, which grounded on sandbank off Tumara, five miles east of the Rock of Gibraltar, Sunday morning was floated at daybreak today. The Lahn afterward anchored in this harbor, apparently undamaged. She is reshipping her cargo and will sail tomorrow for New York. Poulney Begelow, one of the passengers of the Lahn, in conversation with a representative of the Associated Press yesterday, said that there was no panic on board the steamer when she grounded thus contradicting the statement of other of the passengers.

NATIONAL LAWMAKER TELLS OF BRIBE OFFER

Congressman Lesser of New York Says It Was Made in Interest of Holland Torpedo Boats.

Washington, Jan. 21.—Representative Montague Lesser of New York, a member of the committee on naval affairs of the house, in a meeting of that committee, made the sensational charge that he had been offered $5,000 as a bribe to vote for the purchase of more Holland torpedo boats by the government. This offer, Mr. Lesser said, had been made about a year ago, shortly after his election to the Fifty-seventh congress, and was renewed at the beginning of the present session during the fight of the Holland company to secure further government contracts.

Mr. Lesser was asked by members of the committee to name the man who had offered the bribe, but refused. On being pressed to give his name Mr. Lesser finally said that the bribe had been offered through his clerk, that the man who offered the bribe was an ex-congressman, but that he must refuse to mention his name.

The naval affairs committee theretofore appointed a subcommittee of five members, of which Chairman Foss of the full committee, is also chairman, to investigate the whole matter.

HEBREW COUNCIL AT ST. LOUIS

Eighteenth Annual Session of Union of Hebrew Congregations.

In addition to the fund, the question regarding the rights of Jews as Americans, in the cities of Russia and other foreign countries will be thoroughly discussed. The opening session was taken up with routine business, through appointment of committees and reading of reports.

PICTURE PLEASES LADY SOMERSET

The President of the W. C. T. U. Is Pleased with the Painting, "Love and Life."

London, Jan. 21.—Lady Henry Somerset, in an open letter published today, says she regrets the objections raised by "certain workers" of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of America" against Watts' picture, representing "Love and Life," being hung in the White House.

"As president of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union," continues Lady Henry, "I feel it should be made clear that the objections raised by a few women are not held by the majority of the great temperance society, which realizes that that wonderful allegorical picture has in it nothing but tender, beautiful teaching, with the purity of treatment and intention which marks the great master's work."

I would perhaps not have made this statement so emphatically were it not that I know Frances Willard shared my view in this matter.

"She certainly would have deplored the criticisms that have been made by women who have done most excellent work, but who probably have no discrimination in judging of the moral effect of works of art."

AMERICANS ARE VERY THREATENING

Colonists on the Isle of Pines Refuse

To Recognize Cuban Authority.

Havana, Jan. 21.—The Americans residing in the Isle of Pines deny the general assumption of the Cuban government that the United States has no special interest in the island, and it is not likely to insist on the eventual ownership of it.

to resist, by force if necessary, the collection of taxes or any assumption of authority over the island by the Cuban government.

MASCAGNI GETS HIS OLD PLACE

Von Bülow Believes It the Most Important Internal Policy.

Berlin, Jan. 21.—Answering criticisms of the increased expenditure involved in the Germanization of the Polish provinces during the budget debate in the Prussian diet, Chancellor von Bülow said the government considered this the most important of all the Prussian internal questions, as it was convinced that the integrity of the monarchy and the German possessions could be maintained only by adhering to the program for promoting the Germanization of the Eastern provinces.

SOME OF ITALY'S GREAT ARTISTS

INTERESTING LECTURE GIVEN BY MISS KELLOGG

FOR MONDAY CLUB MEMBERS

Speaker Discussed Art and the New Education Which Arose During the Renaissance.

In her lecture before the Monday Club in the parlors of the Congregational church Monday evening, Miss Louise Phelps Kellogg, of Madison, gave an interesting resume of art conditions in Italy during the Renaissance. Belated trains on several occasions have shortened Miss Kellogg's time with the class and she devoted this lecture to giving some of the things which she had been forced to omit in previous lectures.

Social Position of Artists

Emphasis was again laid on the fact that during this time art was the expression of life of the common people and was distinctively representative of the cities in which it was fostered. While the work of the artists was given the highest appreciation, their social position was much below that of professional men. They were artisans and were in a sense upper servants at the call of the men who were their patrons.

There was a gradual change toward the latter part of the century. Lorenzo de Medici took Michael Angelo into his own family, Leonardo de Vinci enjoyed a high position in the court of Ludvigio, duke of Milan, but he was at his beck and call. Much of the artists' valuable time was spent in planning fêtes, designing costumes for the duchess or superintending engineering work.

Art in Central Italy

In the central part of Italy, among the mountain cities, there developed a peculiar and distinctive style of art, not imitative of Florentine art though influenced by it. It was more idealistic and dreamy and less naturalistic. Mysticism was developed. The artists were also fond of decorative effects and their frescoes were parts of the building and a decorative scheme rather than pictures. This country is now developing a school of decorative art, as evidenced in the public library at Boston and the Congressional library.

The Great Raphael

Two of the most celebrated artists of central Italy were Perugino, whose early pictures show his master's influence. Although Raphael studied later in Florence and his art became universal he never outran the characteristics of central Italian art and never lost the element of mysticism. His Madonnas are not merely nice looking mothers. They have the rapt, far away look. In his Sistine Madonna, there are expressed the divinity of the child and the absorption of the mother in divine meditation. Raphael's genius was many sided. In his work was the culmination of all the offices of Central Italian art.

Art in Northern Italy

Northern Italy hardly deserved to be called a separate school of art. Milan imported Leonardo da Vinci, who represents the versatility of the times. People of today think of him as a great painter but he was also a great scientist, one of the greatest mathematicians, a writer, a master of applied sciences such as engineering, a musician, the inventor of musical instruments, an improver of music and words, a poet and a sculptor. Because of his versatility he was revered by his contemporaries but he left little behind him. If he had devoted himself exclusively to painting he would have enriched the world more.

Northern Italy produced one great native artist, Mantegna, who represented the scholarly art. One admires the serious dignity, power and majesty of his art but it is not attractive. The Venetian school is distinguished for its development of rich coloring and its portraiture.

New Education Arises

The medieval education was very unlike that of modern times both in matter and form of study. The medieval type of study was devoted largely to mental gymnastics, a typical question for discussion being "how many angels can dance on the point of a needle?" Theology and the Catholic church were the basis of everything. Men became almost pagan in their enthusiasm over classical research and were inclined to worship the old gods and goddesses. They were accused by the ignorant class of being in league with the devil.

Private Schools

The higher churchmen became interested in the classics. They wanted their children educated and private schools, divorced from the universities and the churches, sprang up, all over Italy. It was the origin of the new education of the humanist type. Greek was one of the most important studies. These private schools laid out the curriculum of study which has been followed ever since and which is the basis of modern education.

Art of Living

The fine art of living and manners developed in Italy at this time. It is hard to realize how devoid of refinement the middle ages had been. People ate like animals and the courtesies of life were unknown. At this time napkins, forks and knives came into use, this being significant of the general change which took place. People began to give attention to their manners and a book on manners is one of the most remarkable of the times. It is the book of the Courtier and has been through more editions than any book of its kind.

SOCIAL DEMOCRATS PLAN BIG LECTURE

Carl B. Thompson's Address at Foresters' Hall Thursday, To Be Red Letter Event.

Great preparations are being made by Janesville Branch, No. 1, of the Social Democratic party for the lecture by Carl B. Thompson of Denver to be given in Foresters' hall on Thursday evening. Promises have been received from Beloit that a large number of union men and members of the party which the Rev. Thompson advocates will be present, making the trip over the Interurban line.

It is expected that the speaker will give a barefaced commentary on the alleged municipal misgovernment in Janesville. Public ownership of city utilities will be the slogan of his speech, and child labor will be strongly assailed.

Every union in the city will be represented at the meeting, but it is not desired to restrict the attendance to followers of the socialist creed. The purpose of the lecture, on the contrary is to proselyte many of those who are now scoffing from the outside and have not heard a clear statement of the purposes of the party.

DYNAMITE CAPS AND FUSE FOUND

Workmen Clearing Up Ruins of the Standard Oil Fire, Discover Them Under Building.

Workmen clearing away the ruins of the Standard Oil company's house, which was destroyed by fire on the morning of January second, made a strange discovery, which may straighten the theory that the house was set on fire and that it was the intention of the incendiaries to blow the building out of existence.

The find consisted of twenty-two dynamite caps and about four feet of fuse. The stuff was found under the floor at the northeast corner of the building where the floor was not entirely destroyed by the fire.

The caps were in an old tobacco bag, which was badly scorched and the fuse was wrapped about it. Evidently the fire was extinguished before it reached the stuff and had become hot enough to set it off.

The caps themselves would not have done any great amount of harm, although they are very powerful. If there was any dynamite along with the caps it burned up, as none was found with the other stuff. Dynamite when not confined or exploded by a cap, will burn like grease, and not do any damage.

The parties may have intended to blow up the building and have been frightened away before complaining their arrangements, or the stuff might have been planted by some crook following along the railroad, and did not care to be caught with caps and fuse on his person.

The police are rather inclined to believe that the fuse and caps were left there by some of the numerous crook following along the railroad, crook waiting for a chance to catch a freight train out of town.

CADETS HELD A MILITARY DANCE

Informal Affair Followed the Weekly Drill in Christ Church Parish Hall Tuesday Evening.

At the close of the weekly drill of the Christ Church Cadets on Tuesday evening, a military hop was held in the parish hall. A spirit of delightful informality prevailed, and what was lacking in numbers was made up in infectious jollity.

The young people danced for several hours to the strains of piano music furnished by Roy Carter. With a few exceptions, the gentlemen were attired in uniform, giving a decidedly martial air to the affair.

...Forty Years Ago...

Janesville Daily Gazette, January 21, 1863.—Our dispatches, today, inform us that there is great excitement in Washington on account of information received from the army of the Potomac, which has not been promulgated from the war department.

If any intelligence of a startling nature has been received the public will say at once that it cannot be favorable as in that case the information would not be withheld. From previous knowledge we should naturally conclude that Burnside had crossed the river and that the army is in some peril, or is in the midst of a battle. We have had rumors of demoralization in the army and some may fear that this is the cause of the excitement at the national capital. Whatever it is, especially if the news is bad news, we shall learn soon enough. It is possible that it may be nothing but a sensational story, such as sometimes excites the people, and enables our city contemporaries to sell more of their papers.

WANT BIBLE IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

MEN'S LEAGUE TALK OF PRESENT DAY NEED.

THE BIBLE IS NOT SECTARIAN

Presbyterian Men Hold Their Monthly Meeting and Condemn Legal Enactment on Subject.

About twenty-five men attended the January meeting of the Presbyterian League which was held in the church parlor and dining room on Tuesday evening. After a supper had been served in the characteristically whole-souled type of the ladies of the church, the subject of religious instruction was discussed under the leadership of the pastor.

Rev. Henderson introduced the topic by pointing out the apparent dryness of the Sabbath school of today. He attributed this, when it exists, not to the subject matter, which is as absorbing and full of interest as any topic which could be studied, but to deficiencies on the part of the teachers, or rather in their methods of handling the subject.

Scottish School Methods

In the absence of Alexander Galbraith, a paper which had been prepared by him was read by the leader. Its subject was the study of the Bible in the schools of Scotland. Bible reading and the teaching of other sacred literature during the opening hour of the morning, is customary in the public school. By an education act passed in 1873 left it to the board of education to say whether or not the Bible should be taught. In most schools those students who do not care for the religious exercises do not come until ten o'clock, when the reading has been completed.

That the results of the system have been beneficial is shown, he said, by a comparison of conditions in England and Ireland, where such customs do not exist. As a general thing the Scottish laborer is far better educated than the others, and he receives higher wages. The omission of the Bible reading in the schools of America he considered a vacuum which cannot be filled.

Basis of Morality

After a discussion of Mr. Galbraith's paper, J. F. Wortondyke spoke upon religious instruction as the foundation of morals. He advocated the commencement of the process of instilling the principles of morality in early youth, the earlier the better. Most of this instruction should be received from the parents, by the telling and the reading of simple bible stories.

Our Institutions and our Laws

The influence of our New England forefathers is in large part responsible for this. The lack of the Bible in the schools today shows a sad falling off. Mr. Wortondyke attributed this condition in large part to political vote seekers and to foreigners who ought to be welcomed to our schools, based upon the constitutional enactment which prohibits sectarian teaching and the supreme court ruling that reading the Bible may be considered sectarian. Mr. Jackson pointed out the failure of the court to distinguish between those parts of the Bible which are sectarian and those which are not.

A short musical program was first given for the entertainment of those present, J. A. Hoffman, orator of the League, presided and made a few introductory remarks. Miss Cora Anderson gave two vocal solos on the program, the selections which she sang being "Sweetheart" by A. L. Powell and "Forgotten" by Eugene Cowles. Mrs. H. D. Murdock played her piano accompaniments.

Three instrumental duets by William McLean, violin, and Miss May Morrissey, piano, pleased the audience. The selections played were "Stranger Story," "Don't You Cry My Honey," and "The Signal From Mars." There was also a piano duet, "Snowballs," played by the Misses May Morrissey and Hazel Harrington.

After the program the balance of the evening was spent in playing progressive games. The first prizes were won by Mrs. H. D. Murdoch and P. H. Marks and George C. Harrington was awarded the consolation prize.

G. S. Wright spoke of the desirability

in every church of a Bible class for young men. It has a function just as great as the sermon, and should be a vital part of every church.

In every congregation there are a large number of young men who should be in such a class, and would not only profit by it, but would become greatly interested in it.

Many young men do not go into Sabbath School classes, said Mr. Wright, because the older men do not set the example. The school should be graded, and the scholars should be graduated from one class to another and given diplomas.

Next Meeting

More discussion followed and then the plans for the next meeting were spoken of. The subject will be Modern Religious Beliefs and Burr Scott will act as the leader.

A vote of thanks was given by the club to Mr. G. G. Sutherland for his generosity in placing before the public the opportunity of hearing the lecture of Dr. Coulter of the University of Chicago. His name had hitherto been kept secret, but it was felt that some acknowledgement should be made of his gift.

KNICKERBOCKER CUTS MUCH ICE

Mammoth Ice Concern on Crystal and Other Lakes, Has Completed Its Harvest.

All of the ice for the Crystal Lake

Ice company's distribution for the coming year is now cut and in storage. The last of the harvest was completed on Monday of this week, says Mr. Inman. There are still men at work on the lake, but they are filling outside ice houses now, and will continue to do so until all available storage space has been utilized.

During the weeks that the harvest has been in progress the Knickerbocker Ice company, from which the Crystal Lake company secures its supply has cut four millions of tons of ice, according to the figures given by Mr. Inman. This enormous quantity has come from Crystal, Twin, Fox, Silver and several other lakes, and will be disposed of in Chicago and in numerous other available cities.

The Knickerbocker company, the same concern which operates the crusher plant southeast of the city, has a large number of houses on the lakes. The largest of these ice houses is a mammoth structure, holding between 300,000 and 400,000 tons. Over 600 men and a large force of horses have been employed in cutting ice and filling the houses.

NEW DEPOT NEEDS A TRAIN BOARD

Many Trains Coming and Going at the Same Hour, Cause Confusion.

There is one thing that is very much needed at the new St. Paul station, for the benefit of their patrons and that is some large signs telling where their trains are going. In the morning they have four passenger trains due at the same time and it is almost an impossibility for a person not familiar with the trains to get on the right one. Either something of this kind or a caller is necessary to handle their traffic and avoid confusion.

The capture of the Galveston and the Harriet Lane by the rebels caused much excitement at New Orleans. Admiral Farragut immediately dispatched the Brooklyn and Scotia and half a dozen other vessels to the scene of action to recapture the Harriet Lane or burn her.

ARMY DOES NOT WANT JAIL BIRDS

Emphatic Instructions Received from Milwaukee Regarding Prospective Recruits at the County Jail.

In reply to a request for instructions, Sergt. Brinkmann of the United States recruiting station for the U. S. army has notified Private P. C. Blake in no uncertain language that "no jail birds are wanted in the army." The query from Mr. Blake, who is stationed in this city, was occasioned by an application for examination with a view to enlistment, from a young man who had been confined in the county jail, and whose term of confinement had not quite expired.

On investigation it was ascertained that the young man's offense had not been of a felonious nature and that otherwise his record was flawless. Physically he was well fitted for army service. But Private Blake hesitated to pass upon the matter on his own responsibility and wrote to Milwaukee for orders.

Prompt came the reply from Sgt. Brinkmann, who voiced the instructions of Capt. McCoy that such an applicant would be undesirable for army service. In the future it would be a waste of time to even look over the qualifications of a man who was, as he expressed it, "a jail bird."

These instructions are in a line with other instructions which have recently been imposed to raise the standard of the enlisted strength of the standing army. None but the most desirable of the enlisted men are now eligible for Uncle Sam's service, as the signal corps still stands open as an especially desirable branch for any telegrapher who is capable of receiving and transmitting from fifteen to twenty words a minute.

PLEASANT EVENING FOR ROYAL LEAGUE

Musical Program, Social and Card Playing Followed the Regular Business Session.

Members of Omega Council, No. 214 Royal League and their invited friends held a pleasant social session at the close of the League's regular meeting in Good Templars' hall on Tuesday evening. There was not a large attendance but the evening proved so thoroughly enjoyable that future socials, this having been the first of a series which is planned, will doubtless attract a larger number of the members.

A short musical program was first given for the entertainment of those present, J. A. Hoffman, orator of the League, presided and made a few introductory remarks. Miss Cora Anderson gave two vocal solos on the program, the selections which she sang being "Sweetheart" by A. L. Powell and "Forgotten" by Eugene Cowles. Mrs. H. D. Ice company's distribution for the coming year is now cut and in storage. The last of the harvest was completed on Monday of this week, says Mr. Inman. There are still men at work on the lake, but they are filling outside ice houses now, and will continue to do so until all available storage space has been utilized.

During the weeks that the harvest has been in progress the Knickerbocker Ice company, from which the Crystal Lake company secures its supply has cut four millions of tons of ice, according to the figures given by Mr. Inman. This enormous quantity has come from Crystal, Twin, Fox, Silver and several other lakes. Over 600 men and a large force of horses have been employed in cutting ice and filling the houses.

Weekly Market Letter

As a rule commission houses base their views of advice on existing conditions, or the routine news, and as they believe the market will go during the immediate future, rather than on what may be in store probably will develop in course of a few weeks or months. The only exception to this is the different periods of the year approaching the respective crop scare seasons. This sort of advice is, generally speaking, the best to give and take for those who are merely scalping the market or trying to guess the daily fluctuations, but every speculator has decided leaning to one side or the other. The professionals, are usually bears, but professionals, are usually bears, but the majority of the general public, known as the outside trade, are by force of habit or nature invariably bulls, and it is difficult indeed, to educate them to sell stuff short at any time or at any price, even though at times a decline appears almost certain. The question has been asked me many times of late why I swerved from the bull side of wheat three weeks ago when the price was over 77c, and afterwards declined to 73 3-4c. In a general way I will answer that—in my weekly market letter reports especially—it is always my purpose to read a market ahead weeks, or sometimes months, rather than from day to day, i.e. the inevitable instead of the immediate. I fully realize that daily developments—heavy pulling or selling by certain interests, reported sales for export, or routine news in general—may temporarily effect values. The question that is paramount, however, is: "What is the outlook for prices a month or two hence?"

Some months ago when the price of wheat was hovering around 68c, it was very hard to find a bull, and a price as high as 75c seemed absurd, but at that time I was most vehement in predicting 89c or higher, and I fully believe it would sell there. Conditions prevailing at that time indicated warranted that much advance and more, but within the past month there has been a decided change in the situation, and though I know bear predictions are not popular, I will venture to say that unless there is a wonderful and almost complete change in the situation from what is now indicated in thirty or sixty days, present prices for wheat may then look high. I will give you my reasons for this belief, comparing the situation with a year ago and only a few months back you can judge for yourself.

First—An Argentine surplus of $0,000,000 bu., compared with less than 20,000,000 bu. exported from there last year. Records will show that in every year when Argentina had a large surplus it exerted a depressing influence on values here, often completely reversing the course of the market. The movement from Argentina has not yet set in for the reason that their harvest was delayed several weeks by inclement weather, but the wheat is there and will be moved, and private adverbs are that offerings are liberal for February and March shipment, at prices considerably below what our wheat costs us laid down in Liverpool.

Second—On September 27th last our visible supply was only 24,842,000 bu; now, however, it is 50,116,000 bu. and still increasing in spite of the heavy exports to date. In Minneapolis there is now over 14,000,000 bu. of wheat against only 3,000,000 bu. the first week in November. We are told the flour demand is the largest ever experienced, but the stock of wheat there continues to increase. Possibly the maximum of the visible supply has been reached, but with Argentina a heavy competitor, our exports may be extremely light during the next eight months.

Third—Speculation one year ago at this time beginning with October, 1901, was wild, and owing to the wave of bull enthusiasm, the price of May wheat, 1902, was carried on sentiment as much as anything else to 83 1/2c. The advance culminated in the first week in January 1902, and from then on the market steadily declined notwithstanding the visible decreased heavily each week, beginning with the first week in February, and at the end of the crop year supplies everywhere were almost bed rock. This year, however, speculation is noticeable by its absence, except among the professionals, and everyone in the trade knows that without general speculation a material advance is out of the question, unless, of course, the legitimate situation is so strong or we are threatened with such a severe scarcity of supplies that higher prices must come naturally. This, however, does not appear to be the case now, or January wheat would not be offered at about 4c under May, or almost full carrying charges. The bulls say there will be a famine before another crop is harvested. Possible, but not probable.

Fourth—Last September the Government estimate of the 1902 crop of wheat, Winter and Spring, was for a total of 625,000,000 bu., but the final report published on Dec. 31st made it 670,484,470 bu. The large primary receipts to date—155,988,000 bu. compared with 175,958,000 bu. during the same time the previous year and 149,341,000 bu. two years ago—confirms the increased estimate of the crop raised and while the Spring wheat crop may be marketed closer than usual, there is, I believe, still a large amount of winter wheat remaining in farmers' hands which will come out if the present prospect for the growing crop is not impaired considerably.

Fifth—The acreage of the growing crop of Winter wheat as given by the December government report, is 34,000,000 acres, with the condition 99.7 and indicates a crop of 560,000,000 bu. of Winter wheat, or fully 150,000,000 bu. larger than was ever raised. This will in due time have its effect. The crop, generally speaking, is well protected by snow, and there is nothing at this writing to warrant anyone predicting it will not be harvested. Granting there will be some of it, winter-killed and plowed up in the spring, the total loss in bushels could be 25 per cent, and there will be still left at the harvest the largest crop ever raised. Final returns never showed a loss equal to that amount.

Sixth—True, strong interests are operating on the bull side of wheat and may be able to bring about some further advance, but every bushel they buy they will have to sell again, and the history of speculation in grain of all kinds shows that no man or any one interest can make the market go permanently in either direction contrary to its natural course. It is especially hard to cause and maintain an advance. One may buy what may seem enough to control the market, but without conditions are peculiarly right, the old law of supply and demand will rule in the end and make the price. It is the unknown quantity which must be taken that always breaks the backs of the bulls.

Seventh—In the present or a higher price for wheat is maintained until March, the comparison from then on will show a higher level this year than prevailed after that time last year. On March 31, 1902, May wheat sold down to 70 1/4c, and from then on ranged most of the time between 70c and 75c, and the later active futures all sold below 70c, September wheat declining to 67 1/8c, reaching that price on August 11th, notwithstanding, as I said before, our visible was decreasing heavily and other exporting countries had much smaller crops, consequently were not our competitors on as large a scale as they will be.

With the above combination of hear news before us it will, I believe, be a hard matter to cause much or a permanent advance from present prices. A few months from now, unless the unexpected happens, the situation will be apparent to all, and it may be as hard then to find a bull as it is now to find a bear, and I dare say as hard to find a bull as it was last August. Two weeks ago when the market was declining all the news was bearish, at least no attention was paid to bull news; now everything that can be construed that was is eagerly accepted and made much of, and bear talk is decidedly unpopular. It is positively ridiculous, but the situation has not changed a particle. When the probable bear features enumerated above became a reality, everybody in the trade will be commenting on them, but seeing this probable condition of affairs in advance, I cannot consistently advise my customers to buy wheat at this time and at prevailing prices. I fully realize, however, the Armour concern has such complete control of the market at present, and so many are trying to follow the leader that it may be an easy matter now to force further advance in May wheat, but they will be free sellers, and this advance will culminate when least expected. As the outsiders have been very apathetic up to now, I do not think they can be induced to come in on this or on any further advance and take the load off their hands.

Selling May wheat short may not be safe, but if July wheat is advanced to over 75c in sympathy with the May it ought to prove a good sale from there up.

The spread between May corn and May oats narrowed from 9 3/8c a bushel a week ago to about 8c per bushel this week. I believe it will be less than 6c per bushel before delivery day, and still think it advisable to sell May corn on every bulge and buy May oats on every weak spot, or make both transactions at the same time. This straddle seems reasonably safe. Yours very truly,

GEO. H. PHILLIPS.

RICHARD GOLDEN SCORED TRIUMPH

In the Title Role of "Foxy Quiller" He Wins Applause from an Undemonstrative Audience.

Soon after the Myers Grand curtain rose on Tuesday evening, something told Foxy Quiller that he had arrived. But the astute F. Q. did not begin to come in the full effulgence of his matchless sagacity until well along in the second act. When the third was reached his proximity was undeniably and those who had been attracted by the "greatest comic opera since Pinocchio" accorded him his due in several rounds of rousing applause.

In claiming operatic honors the production lays down the gauntlet in definite fashion, and if the challenge is accepted it has itself only to blame for scathing criticism. Last night's audience was plainly in a hypercritical mood. DeKoven and Smith's "Highwaymen" had won such a pronounced Janesville success that expectations were high when its sequel was announced.

Consequently it was quite a triumph that Golden in the name part and the clever diminutive comedian Zink achieved. At the outset their reception was not over cordial but the house came down so unanimously before the final curtain that the production deserves to be listed among the successes of the season in the local playhouse.

Zink and Golden, together with the neglected genius Binks, played by Conley, made one of the great hits of the evening in an absurdly comical dance in the third act. Quiller's solo "Smiles" was all that was needed to make Golden solid with the audience. The applause following the latter song was so insistent that after the obliging comedian had sung three or four extra verses he abandoned hope of satiating his auditors and attempted to satisfy them by delivering a delightful monologue in mock conversational style.

Numerically, the cast was a little short of the poster specifications, but most of the members were adequate in voice and with a few exceptions who were kept well in the background in personal qualifications.

EXPORT TRADE

The export trade of the United States has resumed its normal and expansive condition. From the low figure due to the failure of the corn crop last year and the unusual demand at home, the export figures have increased from 88 million dollars in June to 148 millions in December, and reached the highest mark ever made by exports in the month of December. June, July and August of the year 1902 were the only months since August 1899 in which the export figures fell below the 100 million-dollar line, and this was due to the causes above indicated. With the arrival of the new crops of breadstuffs, cotton and provisions, the exports have rapidly advanced, the increase in December over the preceding month, as shown by the statement of the Treasury Bureau of Statistics, being about 23 million dollars, of which the value of 11 millions is in cotton, 5 millions in provisions, 4 millions in breadstuffs, and a million dollars in mineral oils. The December exports are 11 million dollars in excess of December 1901, 3 millions over the banner year of 1900, 10 millions more than in 1898, 30 millions more than in 1896, 56 millions more than in 1895, 61 millions greater than in 1892, and actually double those of 1887. Only one month in the entire history of our export trade—October, 1900—shows as large a figure of exports, while in no December have the exports reached as high a figure of value as in December 1902.

EASTERN OPINION

There is an interesting coincidence in the action of the two legislative caucuses which on the same night, in Illinois and Wisconsin respectively, eliminated the Hon. William Ernest Mason and continued the Hon. John C. Spooner. Mr. Mason's departure will not be a public loss. There is probably no other senator whose presence on the republican side of the chamber would be dispensed with during the next six years with less damage to the interests of the party and of the country. The candidate indicated by the caucus as Mr. Mason's successor, the Hon. Albert J. Hopkins of Aurora, is a legislator whose record in the house gives good promise of his usefulness in the senate. The failure of Wisconsin to re-elect Mr. Spooner would have been a national calamity. No man in public life is indispensable, perhaps, but no man in the senate at the present time comes nearer that description than the experienced, wise, intellectually, alert and perfectly honest gentleman whose genius for perceiving the right thing and doing it at the right moment has given him in recent years so prominent and effective a part in the affairs of the United States. There was never a time when his methods of accurate analysis and forcible presentation and his constant sanity of insight and purpose were more needed at Washington than they are likely to be in the six years coming. People are warranted in regarding with uncommon satisfaction the preliminary proceedings both at Springfield and at Madison. Suppose that Spooner had been taken away and Mason left!—New York Sun.

FACE TO FACE

From east to west there has been inquiries into the coal shortage. Grand juries have been called, mayors and common councils have investigated, the president of the United States has appointed a commission and associations have passed recommendations condemning the scarcity and ministers have deplored it from the pulpit. Lastly comes the Wisconsin legislature to investigate the shortage in Wisconsin. What these many organizations have done have not shorter than we were two weeks ago. Chicago's grand jury has indicted prominent men and firms but they have not increased the coal supply one bit. Milwaukee aldermen found 10,000 tons of anthracite hidden in a ware house but thus far none has been placed upon the market. The great fact remains that we need fuel. Since the discovery of the use of anthracite this nation has passed from a wood burning people to a coal using one. Our forest have been cut off for timber, not for fuel, and today when the visible supply is cut off we are at a loss to account for it and turn to the dealers and railroads as the cause instead of looking back to the mines themselves.

STRANGE HISTORY

With the death of former Premier Sagasta of Spain and the opening of his private papers comes more word to the world of the inside workings and intrigues of royalty. While openly espousing the hot-headed impulses of her people in declaring war against the United States Queen Christina was secretly writing her prime minister to try his utmost to make peace with the American people and avoid war as much as possible. Openly she espoused war and all its consequences but privately she hoped and prayed that none might occur and that her people be spared the conflict that followed. This and much more of her characteristics have been made public by the letters which the ex-premier left behind him and which the young King Alfonzo, has offered a duchy to obtain. They will tell a story of a woman whose heart burned and ached for her suffering people but who openly acceded to their demands for war.

POPE LEO'S OPINION

Pope Leo has said that he approves of President Roosevelt and his action against the anti-negro element of the south. He congratulates the United States upon having such a strong man at the head of its government and says that his confidence in the strength of the American people is increased by the unflinching stand taken by our president. Pope Leo is not a man to pay a compliment because he will please the hearer. He says what he thinks, what he believes and his endorsement of President Roosevelt echoes the opinions of every citizen of the United States.

PRESS COMMENT

Cataloule Sentinel: If the coal famine keeps on a shanty in the woods will be better than a palace in Chicago.

Two Rivers Chronicle: The legislator who makes the best record this winter will be the one who introduces the fewest bills and refuses to affiliate with the lobby.

Mariette Eagle: Mayor Rose of Milwaukee has ordered 10,000 tons of coal to be sold to the poor at cost. The mayor must certainly expect to run again.

Milwaukee Journal: According to a statement of the Milwaukee gas company, fewer meters are freezing this winter than ever before. This is probably due to the fact that they are kept too busy.

Milwaukee Free Press: Perhaps Janesville people think so much of Golding they will give him a leave of absence, with salary, for three months, so he can attend to the duties of his other office at Madison.

Eau Claire Telegram: Eau Claire is certainly more fortunate than most of her neighbors, inasmuch as she is well supplied with wood for fuel. No actual suffering from a shortage of fuel exists here, although there is no anthracite to be had and but little soft coal.

Milwaukee Wisconsin: We are pleased to see that Senator Whitehead, ex-Speaker Ray and Ira B. Bradford are evincing most cordial good will toward the governor. Let all men unite in favor of such legislation. And if congress knows on which side its bread is buttered, it will fully comply with their demands.

La Crosse Press: The nomination of Neal Brown by the Democratic senatorial caucus redounds to the credit of the legislators who participated and to the Democratic party. The honor is an empty one, but is all the party has to bestow this year and it is given to a man worthy of any position within the gift of the people.

Fond du Lac Commonwealth: It's a mighty poor sort of a citizen who fails to keep his sidewalks cleaned. The snow storms have been pretty close together but that is no excuse for allowing the snow to remain on the walks. Shovel it off if you have to get up an hour earlier in the morning.

Oshkosh Northwestern: Governor La Follette says the paid lobby at Madison should be driven out and a stop put to its nefarious interference with future legislation. And as the people themselves are having their eyes opened to this outrageous evil they will sooner or later demand that something be done in line with the recommendation of the governor.

La Crosse Chronicle: Mr. Lenroot has been chosen as speaker or the assembly. He should have the support of every loyal member, and if this is given him, it will lighten the task which is before him. The Chronicle would have preferred Mr. Ray, but Mr. Lenroot has a clean record and there is no doubt that he will endeavor to serve the people in a faithful and effective manner.

Fond du Lac Reporter: The question of holding Saturday sessions of the legislature is under discussion. There is much important business to come up and every day may be needed. There will be no saving of money so far as the salaries of the members are concerned, but there will be a big saving of time. The saving of money will come in on the salaries of clerks and other attaches.

Green Bay Gazette: Just at present the problem throughout the greater part of the country is to get coal. Later, after all these investigating committees have finished their work and have found out just why coal has been so hard to get, the thing to do will be to provide against recurrence of a similar condition in the future.

Racine Journal: "Governors of states have no call in the world to denounce citizens of their states for any action politically whatever. When elected they are governors of states and not of political parties. Politically, of course, they will naturally observe the principles of their party in any matters of state, but they have no need whatever to interfere with citizens."

Madison Journal: Mr. C. O. Marsh of Antigo will make an excellent chief clerk of the assembly as soon as he learns the ways of the post. He is scrupulously honest and mannerly. It remains to be seen if he can correct some of the laxity that has long characterized the work and spirit of some subordinates and committee room helpers to the chief clerkship.

Milwaukee News: In his letters to the Sentinel in his pre-convention campaign, Senator Whitehead came out squarely in favor of carrying out the recommendations of the tax commission. There is no reason to doubt his sincerity. Other stalwart senators are on record in favor of the tax bills. If the "reformers" of the state are not creatures of the corporations, there should be no difficulty in pressing a tax bill to speedy passage.

Republican and Leader: When Senator Spooner is re-elected the legislative work of the session will have a "clear deck." To two measures the platform of the republican party commits the majority—a primary election law and a measure providing for equitable taxation. It is expected that there will be much discussion of another measure—a proposition to establish a railway commission with the power to fix rates for carrying passengers and freight. The session will be a lively one. It is to be hoped that its deliberations will be governed by wisdom.

WAS AIMED AT CLERK GOLDFIN

Other Business of the County Board Transacted with Usual Deliberation.

Friends of Governor LaFollette showed their teeth at the county board meeting yesterday afternoon, and also that they felt sore over the fact that they was not able to defeat Theo. W. Goldfin for the office of chief clerk of the senate.

The governor's right bower in Rock county and any other country—Supervisor L. E. Gettle, expressed the disapproval of the state administration over Goldfin's election, by introducing the following resolution, regarding county officers holding any other office that takes them away from their county duties:

Resolution

"Moved, That is it the sense of this board that the county officers working for the county in the administration of the duties of their respective offices, and that protracted absence from their office for several months to accept remunerative positions out of the county, is a breach of good faith with the people, and that failure to perform personally the duties of any county office by the proper officer can only be excused on the ground of physical disability or other incapacity."

The resolution was passed without any discussion, Mr. Gettle being almost the whole thing around the board meetings when it comes to introducing resolutions.

Not Mentioned

Mr. Goldfin's name was not mentioned in the resolution but it was easy to see who was meant, as at present Mr. Goldfin is the only county officer holding a state office except Chairman Alex. White, who is a member of the assembly but is tending to his county work ahead of his legislative duties, so did not come under Mr. Gettle's resolution.

Morning Session

The morning session of the county board was called to order at 10:30 o'clock by Chairman White. All members except Supervisors Cheever, Quimby, Kelter and Hanson were present. The journal of yesterday was read and approved.

A bill appropriating money for the salary of the county officers and incidental expenses was allowed as was a bill for witnesses and jurors' fees in the different justice courts throughout the county and also in the municipal court.

Extra Clerk Hire

The sum of $150 was appropriated to F. P. Starr for extra clerk hire and also $75 for his services on the county purchasing committee. A book typewriter was also ordered for the clerk of the courts office for the reason that the cost would be saved in the number of books used.

The officers of the board were instructed to enter into contract with C. H. Wehrle to transcribe all the plats and records of lands in Rock county, outside of the city of Janesville, for the sum of $750 and he be given until November, 1904 to complete the work.

The sum of $10.00 was appropriated for Chairman White to pay for signing orders. Twenty-five dollars was also appropriated in both superintendents districts to pay for common school diploma examinations.

The per diem and mileage of the supervisors was then allowed and the board adjourned.

Other Business

Court Room

The question regarding the rent of the municipal court room which had been made a special order of business for 2:30 was laid over until the next session of the board. The expense accounts of Supts. Ross and Thorne were ordered paid.

COAL SCARCITY CLOSES PLANT

HANSON FURNITURE CO. FORCED TO SHUT DOWN.

A SUPPLY IS EXPECTED DAILY

Thirty Workmen Are Now Idle Because Coal Cars Have Gone Astray.

Owing to the scarcity of coal about thirty workmen at the Hanson Furniture Factory have been temporarily thrown out of employment. A large order of coal has been shipped from the mines but the cars have been delayed on the way, and until they arrive the factory will be shut down. The delay is not expected to continue more than two or three days longer, if so long.

For Few Days Only

Every day the delayed coal is expected. In the prevalent freight congestion and the slower time schedule which has been introduced on some roads, mislaid cars are of frequent occurrence, and the coal which the Hanson company is awaiting may now be only a few hours away.

Not First Case

A similar proposition was encountered earlier this week by the Jeffries company, but their furnaces were only obliged to remain cold for a single day before the fuel arrived. Their coal was shipped in due form from the mines but went astray in the care of the railroad company, showing up safely just one day too late.

PLAYERS MADE THE TRIP BY CARRYALL

High School Basket Ball Teams Could Not Return Home by Train Tonight.

Owing to the laying off of trains by the railway companies the basket ball teams of the Janesville High school were forced to change their plans. Instead of going to Milton on the 4:40 train this afternoon, they left the High school building in a carryall at 4 o'clock. Recent changes in railroads made it impossible for the teams to make railroad connections to return home tonight and they were forced to drive overland.

Limited accommodations for spectators also made it impossible for any Janesville roasters to be present to encourage the High school players in their games with the Milton college teams this evening. Coach Norris was notified that there was only room for seventy-five spectators and that it had all been spoken for.

Consequently Coach Norris and the members of the teams and their substitutes are the only ones to make the trip, there being fourteen people in the party. The boys' team includes Sennett and Kent, forwards; Smith, center; Palmer and Wilbur, guards; and Carl and Lovejoy, substitutes. The girls' team will line up with Josephine Fenton and Lucy Fox, forwards; Charlotte Mount, center; Grace Winterbotham and Emma MacLean, guards. Grace Conroy being the substitute. Josephine Fenton is captain of the girls' team and the boys are captained by Ed. Palmer.

PRACTICE BEGINS FOR ALUMNI TEAM

Young Women Basket Ball Players Enter Upon Season's Work with Enthusiasm.

Basket ball practice by the young lady graduates of the Janesville High school who are interested in the organization of an Alumni team was begun at the High school gymnasium, Tuesday evening. The first practice was largely attended and the young women are anticipating the season's work with pleasure.

Practice on Tuesday evening was confined strictly to physical exercises for limbering the muscles and getting the candidates into physical condition for the more vigorous exercise of the game. This general gymnasium training will be increased in length and difficulty gradually under the direction of Coach Roy C. Palmer and actual playing will be begun as soon as the young women are in condition for it.

Meetings for practice will be held at the High school gymnasium on every Tuesday and Friday evening as soon after 7 o'clock as possible. The members of the first team will be chosen by the coach.

WHIST PLAYERS ARE WELL ENTERTAINED

Members of a Card Club Met at the Home of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Nolan.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Nolan entertained the Whist club of which they are members at their home, 201 Prospect avenue, Tuesday evening. At half after six o'clock an elegant supper was served by the hostess and the evening was devoted to the fascinations of progressive whist. Prizes are not awarded in this club, the members playing purely for the pleasure of the game. Mr. and Mrs. Nolan entertained most hospitably and the meeting was one of the most enjoyable which the club has held this season.

FIRE DESTROYS TOBACCO CROP

Blaze at W. H. Palmer's Tobacco Shed Burns Five Acres of the Weed.

A fire alarm turned in from box 515 at the Five Points about one thirty o'clock this morning called the fire department out in quick time. It was found on reaching the end of Milwaukee street that the fire was on Center avenue beyond the Monterey bridge. When western avenue was reached Chief Klein sent the hose wagons back to their stations. The patrol wagon went on to the blaze which proved to be a tobacco shed belonging to W. H. Palmer located on the western side of Center avenue just south of McGraw street and had burned to the ground by the time the patrol reached it. Manree Reed had a five acre crop of tobacco in the shed that was still on the poles. The loss will be in the neighborhood of $1200.

A Warning

Persons turning in fire alarms should be careful about what box they pull. Last night when the fire was almost out to the city limits, box 515 at the Five Points was pulled and the entire department responded, when in reality the East Side should have remained at the house. A telephone message to the West side fire station would have answered all purposes and an alarm could have been sent in from the "kiddie" for box 52 at Center and Western avenues.

MINERS WANT
SHARE OF PROFITS

PAY ON RUN OF MINE BASIS

President Mitchell Declares Himself
Unalterably Opposed to the Present
Dishonest System of Paying for Work in the Mines.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 21.—The United Mineworkers of America, assembled here in convention, want the coal operators to share with them the increased profits resulting from the present abnormal conditions. President John Mitchell advocated such demands in his annual report, and the 750 delegates present greeted the proposal with wild enthusiasm.

The share to be asked will take the form of a large increase in wages for the bituminous miners and a general improvement of their working conditions. They ask honest weight, in itself a wage-increase of no mean proportions. They ask pay for the material mined and not merely the coal taken from it, another indirect increase in wages. Finally they ask protection against the encroachment of machinery.

Outlines Demands.

"It seems to me not uncognizable to assume that a share of the increased profits which have been and will be secured by the coal operators as a result of conditions should be paid to the mineworkers," said President Mitchell in his report.

"I have no reason to doubt that the operators will readily consent to an increase in wages and to a general improvement in the conditions under which work is performed, but they may not be willing to consent to such a division of the profits as we believe the state of trade warrants us in demanding.

Outlook Is Rosy.

"The bituminous coal trade during the year 1902 enjoyed a period of prosperity unparalleled. At no time in the history of mining has the demand for fuel been so pressing and never in my recollection have the prices in the open market been so high. These conditions are due to several causes, the principal ones being the increased activity in manufacturing and the shortage of 22,000,000 tons in the anthracite production."

"It is safe to say there will be no abatement in the demand for two years and that coal used for steam purposes will bring higher prices.

Asks Pay on Run of Mine.

"I am unalterably opposed to the continuance of a dishonest system of paying for a miner's labor. If the coal can be successfully mined on a run of the mine basis in one section of the country it can in another. I recommend that all new scales be framed on this basis."

President Mitchell advocated the founding of a permanent defense fund, inasmuch as the union has now $1,627,120 in its treasury, the largest amount ever held by a trade union.

President Mitchell dwelt on the problem of the injunction in labor disputes, and prefaced his own views by reference to action of Judges Jackson, Kellar and McDowell during the West Virginia trouble.

Regarding Injunctions.

He said: "Government by injunction is not only hostile to organized labor, but it is hostile to constitutional liberty. If the American people do not check this arbitrary power it will result in the annihilation of labor unions and then of all other forms of associations disliked by capitalists."

"In order that a thorough test may be made of the powers of the federal judges the national executive board has appropriated $10,000 from the funds in the national treasury to be used in carrying to the United States supreme court, if necessary, an appeal from the decision of Judges Jackson, Kellar and McDowell during the West Virginia trouble."

The story of Jane McRea is familiar to every boy and girl in the country who have read American history. At the approach of the British army a party of Indians, friendly to the British, seized her and attempted to carry her into the British camp. A squad of American cavalry started in pursuit and fired a volley at the retreating Indians, one of whom was supporting Miss McRea on her horse. A bullet struck the young woman and she was killed instantly. The Indians scalped her and carried her tresses into the British camp. The lover was so shocked at the outrage that he retired from the army and spent a life of solitude in Canada.

"I am pleased to give my experience with Wine of Cardui as I am very grateful for its help. After my first baby was born I could not seem to regain my strength, although the doctor gave me a tonic which he considered very superior, but instead of getting better I grew weaker every day. My husband came home one evening with some Wine of Cardui and insisted that I take it for a week and see what it would do for me. As he seemed to have so much faith in it I did take the medicine and was very grateful to find my strength slowly returning. In two weeks I was out of bed and in a month was able to take up my usual duties. I am very enthusiastic in its praise."

MOTHERHOOD is the noblest duty and highest privilege women can achieve or aspire to. Without this privilege women do not get all there is in life—too often they go through the world discontented, wrapped up in their own selfish cares and troubles. How different is the happy mother, watching her children grow into manhood and womanhood. A mother lives as many lives as she has children—their joys and sorrows are hers, as are their ambitions, triumphs and defeats. Healthy women do not suffer miscarriage nor does a woman who is healthy suffer tortures at childbirth. It is the woman who is ailing—who has female weakness—who fears the ordeal of becoming a mother. Wine of Cardui builds up the womanly in a woman. It stops all unnatural drains and strains—irregularities which are responsible for barrenness and miscarriage.

Wine of Cardui, in re-inforcing the organs of generation, has made mothers of women who had given up hope of ever becoming mothers. Wine of Cardui will cure almost any case of barrenness except cases of organic trouble. How can you refuse to take such a remedy that promises such relief from suffering? Wine of Cardui simply makes you a strong woman, and strong, healthy women do not suffer. They look forward to motherhood with joy.

A million suffering women have found relief in Wine of Cardui.

There are sixteen Republican senators and thirty-three Democrats and Independents who have formed a compact to pass the omnibus statehood bill and to allow no other business to be taken up by the Senate after the morning hour, until there is a vote on that bill.

To Force Vote.

The sixteen Republicans who have entered into this compact with the Democrats are Senators Quay and Penrose of Pennsylvania, Foraker of Ohio, Gallinger of New Hampshire, Elkins and Scott of West Virginia, Burrows of Michigan, Burton of Kansas, Hansbrough and McCumber of North Dakota, Millard of Nebraska, Mason of Illinois, Jones and Stewart of Nevada, Perkins of California, and Simon of Oregon. They met at the home of Senator Quay and agreed to force a vote on the statehood bill and prevent other legislation until that vote is secured. With the solid vote of the Democrats, they have a majority of the Senate, and if they can hold their lines they can pass the bill.

Puzzle for Statesmen.

The steering committee is gravely considering the issue before it. The Senate managers are put to their wits' ends to find a way to prevent the passage of the statehood bill without sacrificing the Cuban treaty and anti-trust legislation. The appropriation bills may be helped by the deadlock on the statehood bill.

Senator Cullom called up the legislative appropriation bill in the morning hour, and it was passed without objection. This bill usually requires several days' consideration in the Senate, but so anxious were both sides to avoid a clash between the statehood bill and appropriations that the clerks read the 150 pages with a hop-skip-and-a-jump, going through the mere form of reading the items in one of the largest and most important appropriation bills, so that it was passed in an hour.

Ready to Proceed.

The Senate then took up the regular order at 2 o'clock the statehood bill, and Senator Quay announced that the friends of that bill were ready to vote. They would indulge in no more debate, and they would ask for an agreement to vote on Jan. 24 or Jan. 31, Feb. 7 or Feb. 12.

Senator Quay did not threaten to prevent other legislation, but his followers have agreed to that program. They deny that they are employing obstructive methods. They are ready to vote and their bill is the regular order before the Senate.

They propose to keep the bill where it is until the opposition is ready to vote, and if there is no agreement by Feb. 12, they will insist on the Senate remaining in continuous session after that date until the vote is taken.

Situation is Serious.

The Cuban treaty cannot be taken up without a majority vote to go into executive session. Senator Cullom did not ask for an executive session, but asked the steering committee to take hold of the situation and map out a program.

PRISON IN ROOSEVELT CASE

It is the most serious situation the Senate has faced this session. The supporters of the statehood bill are acting within their rights. The senators who oppose the statehood bill are now clearly in the minority, though they are the majority of the Republicans and responsible for the conduct of legislative business.

It looks as though only a Republican caucus would straighten out the tangle, but some of the leaders are in favor of meeting the test of strength, on a motion to go into executive session to consider the Cuban treaty and let the minority Republicans defeat that motion if they will.

AGUINALDO HAS PLAN.

Proposes That United States Furnish Money and Credit.

Washington, Jan. 21.—A broad scheme for the relief of distress in the Philippines and the establishment of a financial system for the archipelago is proposed by Aguinaldo in a petition which Secretary Root transmitted to Congress almost immediately after it was received from Governor Taft. The secretary makes the petition the subject of another appeal for prompt action to prevent disaster in the Philippines.

Aguinaldo proposes a United States treasury loan of $20,000,000 gold in cash and also a credit of $80,000,000 gold, which will guarantee the issue of paper to serve as money in the islands. He suggests the establishment of an institution in Manila to be called the "United States of America Agricultural Philippine Bank," to be under supervision of the Insular government, to handle this money, lend it to the farmers at 4 per cent and safeguard the return of the fund at the end of twenty years. He figures that the income, something less than $4,000,000 a year, compounded, would repay the principal in the twenty-year period and leave $50,000,000 with which to guarantee an issue of paper money for the Philippines.

ANTI-TRUST AMENDMENT.

Legislation to Be Enacted as Rider to New Bureau Bill.

Washington, Jan. 21.—On Thursday the department of commerce and labor will be considered by the senate committee on commerce, and it may be amended to embody the trust legislation of this session. The Republican leaders, confident of controlling debate in the house, know that in the senate an anti-trust bill as a separate measure will be thoroughly debated.

The Democrats are expected to attempt to make political capital by emphasizing that the large financial interests behind it, threatens to bring the Senate to a standstill in legislation. There are sixteen Republican senators and thirty-three Democrats and Independents who have formed a compact to pass the omnibus statehood bill and to allow no other business to be taken up by the Senate after the morning hour, until there is a vote on that bill.

To Force Vote.

The sixteen Republicans who have entered into this compact with the Democrats are Senators Quay and Penrose of Pennsylvania, Foraker of Ohio, Gallinger of New Hampshire, Elkins and Scott of West Virginia, Burrows of Michigan, Burton of Kansas, Hansbrough and McCumber of North Dakota, Millard of Nebraska, Mason of Illinois, Jones and Stewart of Nevada, Perkins of California, and Simon of Oregon. They met at the home of Senator Quay and agreed to force a vote on the statehood bill and prevent other legislation until that vote is secured. With the solid vote of the Democrats, they have a majority of the Senate, and if they can hold their lines they can pass the bill.

SENATOR TELLER LACKS ONE VOTE

SENATOR ALBERT J. HOPKINS

Illinois House and Senate, in Separate Session, Confirm the Choice of the Republican Caucus and Will Ratify It by Election To-day.

Denver, Jan. 21.—The Colorado senate last night resolved into two camps. The Democratic senators still hold possession of the senate chamber, where they have set up cots and propose to hold the fort indefinitely. The Republicans have gone into the house hall with the intention of remaining there till noon, in the expectation of excluding the Democratic senators and preventing them from participating in the joint convention, which meets at that time to ballot for United States senator.

Experienced leaders are therefore working to have added as an amendment to the section creating a bureau of corporations in the department of commerce and labor the trust legislation it is desired to enact at this session. In this way they hope to restrict debate in the senate and house and facilitate the passage of the measure.

Teller Leads.

Votes for senator were taken at noon. In the Democratic senate, presided over by President Pro Tem. Adams, twenty-five votes were cast for Henry M. Teller, one senator, McGuire of Arapahoe, being excused in order to prevent an election. The Republican senators balloted in Lieut. Gov. Hoggart's room, the vote resulting: Edward O. Wolcott, 9; Frank C. Gowdy, 4; Irving Howbert, 2; John W. Springer, 7; Jesse Northcott, 1; N. W. Dixon, 2. The vote in the house for senator was: Henry M. Teller, Democrat, 25; Edward O. Wolcott, Republican, 18; Frank C. Gowdy, Republican, 13; Irving Howbert, Republican, 6; N. W. Dixon, Republican, 3.

Too Many Votes.

Altogether 109 votes were cast, nine more than the total membership of the legislature. The vote for Teller in the house and the Democratic senate totaled fifty, one less than enough to elect. Including the two men seated in place of Republicans the Democratic senate has twenty-six members.

The house adjourned over until Thursday, and the members hastened away, but were halted at the door by one of the members, who discovered that the action would prevent the election of a United States senator this term. A roll call was demanded and the house responded seven in the adjournment motion being defeated by the votes of the Democrats.

It is understood that unless the two branches of the senate set ... differences the house will refer to enter a joint session, and may adjourn over three days, as it has a right to do under the constitution.

HOPKINS IS CHOSEN

Illinois's Seniors Vote for Mason's Successor in Separate Session.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 21.—Albert J. Hopkins of Aurora was elected United States senator from Illinois to succeed William E. Mason by the state legislature, receiving the solid support of the Republican members of each house.

The two houses balloted separately and will meet in joint session to ratify the vote. In the senate Mr. Hopkins received 35 votes to 15 cast for James P. Williams, the Democratic candidate, and in the house the vote was 88 for Hopkins to 62 for Williams and 1 for John G. Woolley, Prohibitionist.

Congressman Hopkins with his wife and several friends was present in the senate during the balloting.

In the Legislatures.

The Connecticut general assembly re-elected Orville H. Platt to serve as United States senator for a fifth term.

The two houses of the New Hampshire legislature in separate session re-elected Jacob H. Gallinger to the United States senate.

S. W. T. Lanham was inaugurated governor of Texas. In his inaugural address he said his efforts during his term of office would be to treat corporate interests aright on every proposition.

The North Dakota legislature voted for United States senator in separate session and Senator H. C. Hansbrough was re-elected.

The W. C. T. U. of Wisconsin will demand of the legislature the passage of a bill granting the wards in cities local option as towns and villages have now. The society also will work for the passage of an anti-cigarette bill.

The two houses of the New York legislature in separate session selected Senator Thomas C. Platt to succeed himself as United States senator.

Paralysis by Telephone

It is reported that an interesting case for compensation is about to occupy the legal acumen of the German courts.

While a journalist of Frankfort-on-the-Main was telephoning to Carlsruhe he received an electric shock of such violence that he fell unconscious to the floor, blood streaming from his mouth and nose. Since then he has suffered from paralysis of the right half of his body, and the doctors proclaim him to be incurable.

G. L. Shumway and wife made a business trip to Janesville Friday.

SERVIAN EXILE SEEKS A PATENT

John Gollner, of the Parker Pen Co. Office Force, Invents Automatic Gas Lighter.

John Gollner, a Servian political exile who is now employed as foreign correspondent in the local office of the Parker Pen company, has been spending his evenings for some months past in experimenting with a self lighting gas jet. At last his efforts reached a point where he convinced himself that his device was thoroughly practicable, and models and drawings have been sent to the patent bureau at Washington.

It is not expected that an answer notifying him of the granting of a patent, will be received for some weeks, but notification has been sent him of the file number of his application. He has no reason to believe that he has been anticipated in the idea which he embodied in his invention.

Some months ago when Mr. Gollner began his experiments he found that his device was self-lighting. The flame would not appear, however until a moment had elapsed. The time has now been reduced from a couple of minutes to three seconds, and the inventor hopes to be able to reduce the lighting period until it is practically instantaneous. As the patent has not yet been granted it is not considered advisable to divulge the nature of the device.

Mr. Gollner, it will be remembered was one of seven who had been sentenced to ten years of Siberian banishment, to escape to this country where he must remain for ten years. His period of exile from Servia began in the fall of 1901. He has perfect knowledge of six or seven European tongues, and is well fitted for his post in charge of the foreign correspondence of the Parker company.

In addition to his scientific experiments, Mr. Gollner is pending his evenings in wielding the pen, the too free use of which caused his exile from his native land. He was a newspaper writer in Servia, and he is now doing special work for several German papers. His writings are on labor problems, many of them being published in Milwaukee periodicals. He has a special fondness for this line of work, and expects to keep it up along more pretentious lines. He has no idea of returning to the land from which he was so rudely expelled.

HAPPY GATHERING AT CHURCH SOCIAL

Members of the First M. E. Church Enjoyed a Very Pleasant Evening Together.

There was a happy gathering of people in the parlors of the First M. E. church on Tuesday evening, an old fashioned social for the members of the church and congregation being the attraction. After an hour had been spent in conversation, there was a brief musical and literary program.

Robert Clark, chairman of the social committee, presided and made a few entertaining remarks. Briefer talks were also given by William Cannon, who spoke on financial matters and by the Rev. W. W. Warner, who spoke on the object of the church. The gist of his earnest remarks was that the church which exists merely to pay expenses or to gain members is living on a low plane. The great purpose of the church is service, the doing of good, the unbuilding of manhood and womanhood and the development of Christian character. The church which has this object will pay expenses and gain in membership incidentally.

A vocal duet by Dr. and Mrs. F. T. Richards gave pleasure, their voices blending beautifully in "The Beacon Light." Their accompaniment was played by Miss Elva Crawford. Miss Flora Rider recited "Pan's Soft Spot" with an unusual nicely of expression and Mrs. W. W. Warner's rich soprano voice was heard in the rendition of "Benedicere's Stream," her accompaniment being played by her daughter, Miss Edith Warner. Each of the numbers was encored but Mrs. Warner was the only one who responded. She was assisted in the chorus of the encore by Miss Pearl Hall.

After the program coffee and doughnuts were served. The committee which had charge of the social included Robert Clark, William Cannon, A. W. Minnie, Mrs. F. J. Barfoot and Miss Minnie Winston.

STRIKERS AT LYNN VIOLATE INJUNCTION

Boot and Shoe Cutters Engage in Battle With Police, Knocking Down Three Officers.

Lynn, Mass., Jan. 21.—Although a petition for an injunction had been filed and an order of notice issued by the court at the request of fourteen shoe manufacturers of this city against the striking cutters of the Knights of Labor, there was rioting when the cutters, supplied by the Boot and Shoe Workers' union, left the factories. The strikers and their sympathizers twice almost overpowered the police, knocking down three officers and roughly handling others.

The police, under the direction of Mayor Eastham, managed to beat off the rioters and in addition arrested five men.

As for the peaceful side of the contest, the fortunes of the day seemed to favor the Boot and Shoe Workers' union. Cutters from other New England shoe centers were placed in four of the fifteen factories and in all about forty-four strike breakers were given work.

Went To Manitowoc: State Veterinarian E. D. Roberts was called to Manitowoc yesterday and killed four horses in Peck's livery stable that were suffering with glanders. The stable was quarantined and it may be necessary to kill other horses now in the barn.
